Dear Mr Enormous Crocodile,

I am writing to you to encourage you to stop your beastly ways and change your terrible diet. Your nasty plans and spiteful tricks have been all over the news and it's time you stopped this brutish behaviour at once. Your disgustingly unhealthy diet of angelic children has got to stop immediately or you will regret it forever.

Firstly, everyone knows a diet of delicious fruit and scrumptious vegetables is much healthier for you. Not only does it give you more energy but as well as that it keeps your scales, teeth and eyes in perfect shape. Nothing beats it.

On top of that, the risk of crunching children's bone is enormous. They could get stuck in your throat and crack your dazzling teeth. You would be in agony and could choke to death. Is it really worth the risk?

Furthermore, this diet of yours has resulted in you being the most hated creature in the entire jungle. Instead of chasing these loving animals, and making their lives hell, you could become friends. You would never be lonely ever again and would have friends to share things with.

In addition, you will have much more time to relax and enjoy yourself as you won't be so busy scheming and chasing innocent animals. You could enjoy a delightful mud bath at your leisure and a fantastic claw polish instead of always plotting and running about. Surely you would rather have extra time and freedom?

As you can see a vegetarian diet is undoubtedly the best around and would be a great benefit to you for many reasons. Everyone knows a vegetarian diet is varied and delectable. You have this spectacular opportunity to try exciting new foods and should listen to my superb advice and change your diet without delay.

I hope you see sense and do the honourable thing by becoming a vegetarian.

Yours sincerely,

Mr Green
