

What is the greatest invention of all time?

I think that the greatest invention of all time is the wheel which was invented around 3,500 BC (5,500 years ago) by the Ancient Greeks. I believe that this is one of the most important inventions because we use wheels for many different reasons in everyday life. Before the wheel was invented, it would have been difficult to transport goods on land however nowadays, wheels are used on trailers, cars and lorries to transport things and can travel for long distances. Another reason why this invention is so beneficial is because wheels are also used on bikes and so can provide transport and exercise for many people. My final reason why I believe that the wheel is so important to every life is because wheels are on tractors which help with farming, so if wheels were never invented, then we might not be able to buy all the grains, fruits and vegetables which are farmed and sold in shops.
